Dear Hiring Manager,

Thank you for reviewing my application for the Business Operations Test Engineer I position. After reviewing the requirements I feel that I could be a good fit at Jamf.

My passion is software quality, and as such, I have a keen eye for making sure that what a customer (whether internal or external) interacts with is top-notch. In my previous positions, I've interacted with customers directly, helping them troubleshoot issues with their devices. I've also helped prevent bugs from being released, while at Apple as a Quality Assurance Engineer.

Prior to my days at SurveyMonkey and Apple, I managed the Graphic Arts Mac Lab at my university. I'd be glad to talk about all the responsibilities and difficulties that I faced in these roles.

Please let me know if you have any other questions about my resume, or my other projects. Thank you for taking the time to look over my information, and I look forward to chatting with you.

Sincerely,

Matt Troutman
